ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Whitall Electric Co. Having done considerable work in the electrical line in this vicinity during the past ten years, the Whitall Electric company of Westerly, R. L. has opened a branch office in the Central building on Broadway in order to take care of the constantly increasing trade. It has had a number of contracts with the government for work along the coast to Maine, Mr. R. J. Stewart will have charge of the Norwich branch.

BREED THEATER.

The Little Rebel, the thrilling fea-ture picture at the Breed today, is a splendld story of love, with scenes haid during the civil war. The main action occurs in the southern manaction occurs in the southern man-sion occupied temporarily by a de-tachment of northern officers. A lieu-tenant falls in love with a fair south-ern girl who lives with the mother in the mansion. At the sacrifice of his own reputation, he shields her when she is accused of treachery, but not a sign does she ever give of being thankful to the young officer who wor-ships her. Does the lieutenant ever ships her. Does the lieutemant ever marry the fair southern maiden? Well, just see the last scene. The whole story throbs with real love interest, and is faithfully costumed, handsomely stared and convincingly acted in every

The Gypsy, another story of love and intrigue, tells of a young son of wealthy parents, who falls in love with a gypsy girl, finally marrying her, but when he brings her home, his family will not accept him, but Cupid makes a fixing leap over the social barriers, and the happy pair adopt the simple life, he renouncing wealth and position for the sweets of love. Some splendid comedy is inter-Some spiendid comedy is inter-spersed in the clever bill and the whole series give promise of being one of the best of the season.

THE SEA LANDS.

Would I were on the sea lands,
Where winds know how to sting,
And in the rocks, at midnight,
The lost, long murmurs sing. Would I were with my first love, To hear the rush and roar Of spume below the doorstep And winds upon the door.

My first love was a fair girl, With ways forever new, And hair a sunlight yellow, And eyes a morning blue.

An! years are filled with learning.
And days are leaves of change!
And I have met so many
I knew . . and found therestrange.

I mind about my first love,
And hear the rush and roar
Of spume below the doorstep
And winds upon the door!
